the "new" and "old" forms of knowledge, and the "new" and "old" forms of power.

As a result of the above, we argue that the "new" and "old" forms of knowledge and power are not only different but also incommensurable. Incommensurability is a concept that has been used in the philosophy of science to describe the relationship between different scientific paradigms. It suggests that different paradigms are based on different sets of assumptions and values, and that these assumptions and values are not reducible to a common set of principles. In the context of management, this means that different forms of knowledge and power are based on different sets of assumptions and values, and that these assumptions and values are not reducible to a common set of principles.

One of the main reasons for the incommensurability of different forms of knowledge and power is the fact that they are based on different sets of assumptions and values. For example, the "new" form of knowledge is based on the assumption that knowledge is created through a process of social interaction, while the "old" form of knowledge is based on the assumption that knowledge is created through a process of individual discovery. Similarly, the "new" form of power is based on the value of participation, while the "old" form of power is based on the value of hierarchy.

Another reason for the incommensurability of different forms of knowledge and power is the fact that they are based on different sets of methods. For example, the "new" form of knowledge is based on the method of social interaction, while the "old" form of knowledge is based on the method of individual discovery. Similarly, the "new" form of power is based on the method of participation, while the "old" form of power is based on the method of hierarchy.

As a result of the above, we argue that the "new" and "old" forms of knowledge and power are not only different but also incommensurable. This means that they are based on different sets of assumptions and values, and that they are based on different sets of methods. As a result, they are not reducible to a common set of principles.

One of the main implications of the above is that the "new" and "old" forms of knowledge and power are not only different but also incommensurable. This means that they are based on different sets of assumptions and values, and that they are based on different sets of methods. As a result, they are not reducible to a common set of principles.

Who's that guy over there?

-People

As you walk with Lloyd, he points out the various faces you'll meet and get to know.

Friendships will be one of the most memorable things you'll obtain while in high school. Teachers and faculty will provide the tools you need to receive the best education and an intriguing learning environment. Each class has its own personality and defining characteristics that distinguish it from the rest. So, check out the features and expect to see the faces that make up R.C.H.S.

Your complete guide to putting a name with the faces you see.

Class of 1999

Can you believe it?

This is it. Yesterday is only a memory and tomorrow a hope, but TODAY is ours. We've spent twelve years together that will direct the years to follow. We will live by what we have learned from each other or we will walk away and forget it all. These pages represent our tribute to each other remembering how we have grown and changed together. And now for the rest of our lives.....

Class of 1999 officers: Brienne Hopkins, president; Ashley Barnach, vice president; Amyr Lucas, secretary; and Angela Koebeke, treasurer.

Who's that guy over there? 11

Sneaking a peak!

If the boys are wondering what is going on downstairs in their two story place all they have to do is glimpse down the stairs to find out as the photo below shows.

Friends Forever

No matter what happens in life these guys will always have a special bond. Acting crazy, like the photo to the right shows, is one of many great memories the guys will have.

Q. & A.

INSIDE SCOOP ON THE GREENE ROOM

Jatin Patel

"The Greene Room is a great place to go to be with my friends, and I love going there to dominate the ping-pong table!"

Lars

Kristofferson

"I think it's a cool place because we can be there instead of the streets. It is fun to hang out there because there are so many different people there at one time."

Brendan Riley. He's the hombre in charge.

Yes, that's right he is the president of the Greene Room and as he shows above, he is darn right smiley about it. Maybe the reason he is the BMOC (big man on campus) is because the Greene Room happens to be located in his backyard. Whether or not he's president he loves to be a part of the Greene Room!

"The Greene Room," dedicated in the memory of our great friend, Joby Greene, entitles 21 members.

The group is made of 16 senior men and 5 sophomore boys.

Close and Personal

The picture to the left is of Alex Kingman and Alex Abel. These two are proud of the love they feel for one another and don't mind expressing it!

The Official Senior Group

Guests Are Always Nice

This group shot of the gals up above shows a few of the many guests that the Greene Room members have invited to come for some visits. Because the place wouldn't be the same without the gals!

Whoops! They Missed Out

These two, Justin Roberts and Dave Risner, were unfortunately absent the evening of the photo shoot for the Greene Room so we caught a sneak peak of them at school. Also missing was Cory Malchow, although not shown, he is a full pledged member.

Juniors get loud at homecoming.

Juniors get "studying" done.

From left Sarah Bailey, Kim McClellan, Jared Courtney, and Kevin Zacher get a little morning "homework" done before school starts. Students who have good time management skills know that the time before school is prime time to get their studies done.

Athletic support comes from 2000.

Ryan Stanley and Meeghan Smith get rowdy at a basketball game. Ryan and Meeghan were joined by many other RCHS students as well. A brand new student cheer block emerged this year. The sign totin' crowd was present as almost every home athletic contest.

BTV @ relies in special juniors.

Morgan Keiper concentrates and mixes another Bomber Vision together. She has been a key player on the technical side of BTV for the past two years. Her hope is that when she's a senior, Bomber Vision will ROCK!

M. Kelper, B. Kosanovich, M. Smith, J. Steffen, M. Casey, K. Darnaby, and L. Kennedy enjoy a wonderful "junior day" and a bonding that will last forever (or until they graduate.)

Most Memorable Moments Together

Nycole Martin reminisced about the chaperones on the Washington D.C. trip. Learning the phrase "10-4 good buddy" in sign language and hearing Southern Belle jokes from Mrs. Raff accentuated her trip.

Kyle Nagel remembers at one of his infamous Halloween parties that a lot of frogs were thrown into his hot tub. He also relished in watching the activities that were going on in the woods.

4. "Jordan! CKK!!"
3. 7th grade shedd aquarium trip
2. Any and every junior day
1. Being the Class of 2000.

Sara Cummings had a plethora of memories to share. Her favorite one was listening to Meeghan Smith torment Brian Hannon by calling his fingers "portly."

Jahna Marlatt recalled that her most memorable moment was on the Washington D.C. trip in eighth grade. She vaguely remembers sneaking out of the dorm and going to the hill to admire the beautiful night sky.

Class of 2001

To the Front of the Class these officers do shine through. They are in charge of all the events and priorities the sophomore class holds. The officers for the class of 2001 are: President - Misty Demoss, Vice-President - Kristy Zobel, Secretary - Courtney Woodruff, and Treasurer - Lindsey Bailey.

Your complete listing of clubs you need to check out.

Sigma Di Gamma involved the creative flare of the French, Spanish, and Latin classes. One activity was the making of marracas from paper mache. The art club's strategy was to get right down to business; they painted walls, hung pictures, and decorated downtown store fronts. Amanda Gilbert demonstrates her ability to attract the sweet tooth by selling suckers as a fund raiser for the BFA. The art club also decorated teachers' doors for various holidays. The band used its resources to sell fruit in the pursuit of fundage for new robes, a trip to New York, and other various expenditures.

Student Council 52

Alex Abel checks the music selections as Morgan Keiper and Megan Casey test the camera in preparation for another daily BTV show. By using creativity, dedication, and humor, these students turned the usual morning announcements into an enjoyable program.

In the photo below, senior Jason Thompson checks over the printout of his sports pages for the yearbook. Although it was his first year on the staff (and at RCHS), and the computer did not always cooperate, he thoroughly enjoyed the challenge of writing, cropping photos, laying out the material and meeting deadlines.

The BTV Crew includes the following talented students: (front row from left) Megan Casey, Brian Lakin, Morgan Keiper. (Back row) Adam Zacek, Alex Abel, Brendan Riley, Alex Kingman, Jarod Steffen, and Matt Pizer. The group learned and fine-tuned the art of gathering news and weather, editing the material, adding music, and adhering to a time schedule. Some even learned how to trouble shoot without going to Mr. Oates. Most importantly students always knew what was for lunch.

Ace reporter Jarod Steffen puts much thought into his newspaper article, while Meeghan Smith types her own article in the background. The Rensselaerian staff distributed an average of two four page papers a month during the 1998-99 school year. Many students became editors-in-chief for a single issue as the duties were spread between the two Mass Communications classes.

Chaos

Students in this club are responsible for taking pictures, recording all the events that take place at RCHS, and then putting them in the yearbook known as Chaos. Most of the students in this organization are in the Mass Communications class, but the class is not required for participation.

In the photo above, Mr. Bill Oates assists yearbook sales coordinators Michelle Kiger and Mark Alson with the billing database. Learning databases and spreadsheets were on two of many programs that the students needed to know to get the publications out.

Nicole Howell works on one of many articles for the school newspaper, the Rensselaerian. Some topics in 1998-99 included the Blizzard of 1999, the war in Kosovo, finals, and the devious car creamers.

The Chaos and Rensselaerian staffs include the following creative students: (front row from left) James Kupke, Bethany Streitmatter, Dustin Smith, Amy Hanewich, Anna Poppen, Morgan Keiper, and Matt Pizer; (second row) Jamie Pucka, Amber Luzadder, Nicole Howell, Ambyr Lucas, Brienne Hopkins, Beth Hannon, Barb Lewis, Jarod Steffen, Brian Lakin, Michelle Kiger, and Mark Alson; and (third row) Courtney Lakin, Jennifer Wicks, Kelli Bridges, Megan Casey, Brittany Sweeney, Sarah Brown, Adam Zacek, Tom Alberts, Alex Abel, Brendan Riley, Alex Kingman, Cory Malchow, and Jason Thompson.

Samantha Hopkins and Courtney Lakin concentrate on finishing their yearbook layout before the deadline. Each staff member worked extremely hard to make sure every event was covered this year. Members met either first or last hour, or during homeroom to work in room 103.

B.A.D.D.

Rensselaer students took an active role to educate other students on a variety of topics. B.A.D.D. warned of the dangers of drugs, the Renaissance Club helped uplift school community spirit, F.C.S. shared spiritual feelings, and the media assistants made finding items in the media center easier.

"It's Just Not Worth It"

Angela Koebeke and Sara Putt look at the destruction caused by driving drunk. This car was displayed in the school parking lot during Prom weekend to remind everyone to be safe.

Drug Free and Proud

Angela Koebeke hangs one of the many posters which reminded students to say no to drugs and alcohol during Red Ribbon Week. Later, the club passed out key chains to remind kids not to drink and drive, especially during prom weekend.

The Renaissance Club

worked hard at adding fun things for the RCHS community, like the spirit couch and organized a faculty-staff appreciation assembly.

During Homecoming Week, Mr. Hauser awaits his breakfast served by Sunshine officers during the faculty breakfast.

Sunshine The Light is a Bright One Society

The Rensselaer Central Sunshine Society is one of the biggest in the state and by far the biggest club in the school. Led by Mrs. Kelly Spurgeon and Mrs. Meta Waling, the girls kept really busy in a variety of activities. The club involved girls from their freshman year to their senior year, and sometimes the whole student body benefitted from this club's activities. For example, the club sponsored its second annual Christmas convocation, when Sunshine called in a professional hypnotist to work a little magic on the males and females in the audience.

Another annual activity the Sunshine participates in is the Mother Daughter Tea. Weather conflicts made it necessary to merge the Tea with daddy Date Night.

One of the exciting parts of the program is the Ideal Lady. This is a chance for the girls to pick a lady that they most admire. This year for Ideal Lady night, the entertainment was the North White High School choir.

Although not the first time, another addition to the club in 1998-99 were two male members, JR Studer and Brian Nagel.

Fun for Everyone

Tech Club

The tech club is widely growing considering it is only a couple of years old. Sam Cox helps students to learn more about the field of technology.

Athletic Training

Athletic Trainers involves students who want to better improve their knowledge of the physical aspects of athletics. Trainer Kenny Hickman is the right man to lead this group.

Student

The Kids that make it happen

Council

Luke Tillett

As Student Body President, Luke leads the Council and makes everything happen. His leadership skills are a very valuable asset to the Council.

Alex Kingman

As Student Body Vice-President, Alex Kingman is Luke's "right hand man." His favorite Student Council event this year was Fun Fest.

Beth Hannon

As Secretary, Beth writes and records all actions taking place at the Council meetings. Her favorite Student Council activity was MORP.

Jatin Patel

As Treasurer, Jatin keeps track of the Council's money. This year, Jatin chaired the MORP committee and did an excellent job of making it happen.

Brienne Hopkins

Voted Senior Class President by her fellow classmates, Brienne attended all of Council meetings and was very involved in just about every activity.

When will the world end?

Academics

Within every student there is the desire to learn.

Not only do we yearn for the knowledge a book may provide, but we also search for worldly, and often out-of-this world, answers to the unexplainable. In the halls you'll pass various students, all of which have their own answers they are trying to find. To cater to this need, they've started classes, groups, and clubs to belong to in order to go above and beyond the call of duty. They want to solve their own mysteries and help you solve yours. Challenge your own true potential.

Your complete guide to the courses and teams for the educationally elite.

Alexis Simmons practices her French by going to the boards and struttin' her stuff. Amy Hanewich, Kristina Russell, Beth Fish, Stephanie Jordan, and friends find out about fruit flies in their biology class. Julie Biermann mattes a layout in her first year art class, another creatively motivating class. Tammy Bailey broadens her horizons with the technology - computer applications - class offered at R.C.H.S. Mike Greene, Justin Rodibaugh, and Bethany Streitmatter are attentive and focussed- a dynamic trio.

I think We could do it this Way

American studies students plan how to do their next project. Pictured are Lindsey Jeffries, Adam Alson, and Erin Kosta. Projects were the fun part of the classes because it gave you the opportunity to be with your friends and to get to know people better. The projects were also a way to be very creative(World Civ) and to learn new writing skills(American Studies).

Should I give her a ten?

Brad Kaye and Kara Kosta decide whether to give a ten or less on a position, while the other students in the background write down comments on their score sheets. Positions were a part of the weekly routine in World Civ. because it meant no notes!

What did she Say?

World Civ. kids relax a little and review some history notes that Mrs. Benner said would be on an upcoming quiz. The only hard part about this class is taking notes.

Notes, Notes, and More Notes!

This afternoon World Civ. class is always writing notes to use for a test. Doug Hannon looks toward the door to see who will pop in next, while Shannon Lakin focuses on her writing skills.

Today, we are learning about Columbus!

The American Studies class listens to Mr. Stefanich and takes notes on what he says. In these College Prep classes, students have got to listen well and take great notes in order to survive the year and the essay tests.

Some students enriched their lives by taking American Studies (Mr. Dates and Mr. Stefanich) or World Civilizations (Mrs. Swartzell and Mr. Stefanich or Mrs. Benner). Students learned a lot about the history and literature of civilizations from ancient times through the end of the twentieth century by doing group projects, reading a lot of novels and taking some pretty gruesome tests. Most of them survived another year of college prep classes.

American Studies

and World Civilizations

Together at Last

My Position Topic is...

Sarah Whited gives a mind boggling report on why we should have shorter days of school ... Just kidding. Sarah, like the rest of the World Civ. students, had to give a position on a topic that either she was strongly against or strongly for. Many of these positions were arguable, while some weren't.

Is it A, B, or C?

The American Studies class takes a very challenging test that involved 7 decades (1920's to the 1990's). Even though it was multiple choice, they still had study. In the center, Lindsey Jefferies and Michelle Mattocks concentrate very hard. (Bryan Rodibaugh, Charlie Swartzell, Eric Nagel, and Courtney Tillotta work behind them.)

State Qualifiers

This is only the second ever Decathlon Team in school history. In spite of their inexperience they finished eleventh at state.

Spelling Wizards

The RCHS Spell Bowl Team finished 4th at state competition, after winning the NWHC title. In addition to those successes they also won the Rensselaer Invitational.

Jessica Fredrick and Katie Mitchell are grinning proudly just as they should, because they are the two new senior inductees into the National Honor Society. This society chooses from the best of RCHS, and these two will join the many other accomplished people who have already made it into the elite society.

"The Elite Society"

Students who have achieved good grades and are active at RCHS get the honor of saying that they were in the National Honor Society.

In The Lab

Kristina Russell is working in the lab at the hospital. She has to remain totally focused to complete her tests.

Dede Wiener grins widely as she takes her pitcher into the lab area at the hospital. She is preparing for a possible medical career.

THE SUCCESSFUL CLUBS AND TEAMS OF RCHS

Analyzing the Data

Senior Jessica Taulman is working in the lab at the Jasper County Hospital. She is carefully preparing chemicals to be tested in an experiment. The Health Occupations class at RCHS gives students a taste of the medical field, and a chance to experience real duties in their future occupations.

Future Medical Experts

The Health Occupations Class for 1998-1999 had a lot of great experiences in the medical field. These special students (back row from left) include: Lori Lane, Alisha Harper, Susan Wakeland, Kristi Wright, Nicole Amsler; and (front row) Kristina Russell, Mina Fritze, Jessica Taulman, Jammie Frady, and Dede Wiener.

All Revved Up For Auto Class!

The 1998-99 Auto Class tackled automotive problems while becoming automotively inclined. Just a bunch of grease monkeys you may ask? Naw, these guys are the real deal and they don't sweat over the small details!

I'm not an honor's student, but I know my auto stuff!

Scott Neely, a senior, is seen in this picture trying to figure out what to do with this metal rod and a clamp. Scott, like many other students at RCHS, plan on an automotive career after high school.

No Limit Detailers

Two of RCHS's finest auto class members are seen here cleaning the doors of this car. Everything in auto class has to come out with a slick image, and these guys do it without any hesitation.

One Sweet Ride!

A few members of the Auto Class student's check out the smoothness of this extra spiffy ride! The auto guys are accustomed to seeing a variety of sweet vehicles in their shop!

New House On The Block

If you build it, they will come. The Building Trades house that they worked so doggedly to complete is just about finished and in timely fashion.

The Carpenters

The afternoon Building Trades members are: Trent Bizner, Pete Tychek, Chris Yenna, Dave Shanley, Brad Daniels, Ray Yeoman, and Charlie Todd.

A Few Good Men

The morning building trades class consists of: Nathan Hornback, Jake Nagel, Nathan Schleman, Jason Robinson, Mark Moore, and Justin Davis.

3 Men and A Lady

The other Building Trades class members are Brandon Lockridge, Cole Shultz, Jon Hale, and Tiffany Staalbaum.

Buildin' a solid foundation

Hammer Time!

Equipped with only a ladder, hammer, nail, and knowledge of building, Nathan Schleman is seen hammering away at the siding of this building.

Fitting It All In!

Mark Moore is putting a piece of the tile back into the floor. It may be simple, yet it is a vital part of the building process!

Mixing It Up

Jake Nagel has his hands full mixin' some grout for the kitchen tile. Sounds like fun.

Dirty Work

Pete Tychek is raking away dirt with a vengeance. This filthy enemy is the only thing that stands between him and the goal of finishing up!

Splitting Tile

Chris Yenna is just cutting a piece of tile for one of the floors in the house. He is very excited to complete the project soon.

A Concrete Idea!

"Students of Today, Business Professionals of Tomorrow."

The Business Professionals of America this year went to District competition in Valparaiso, then from there they went onto state competition in Indianapolis.

A french horn medley provides the band with a rich, luminous depth inside the band room and out on the performance field. The color guard dazzled the yard lines with their renditions of Les Miserables flag style. Nick Black added humor to this year's school musical, Bye Bye Birdie. Tiffany Jordan and Beth Fish served as the leading ladies for the marching band. Tiffany is caught in action, directing the flute section. Another scene from Bye Bye Birdie relives the use of the whole chorus to get a large number of cast members in on the action.

You're Giving Up the Scream!

Ursula Merkle (Jessica Mercer) listens as Kim tells her that she won't be in the Conrad Birdie fan club anymore, but will still listen to his records.

Can I get a mic. check?

Josh Taylor and Rebekah Hansen put on their microphones right before the last rehearsal on the night before the opening of the play. Josh played Albert Peterson, the manager for Conrad Birdie, while Rebekah played Rose Alvarez, his faithful secretary who wanted him to drop the family business and go back to college to become an English teacher. Josh and Rebekah did an excellent job all three shows. They really covered when some of the other cast members forgot their lines.

We love you, Conrad!

Conrad (Lars Kristoffersen) gets a warm welcome from some teenage girls (who are held back by a police officer), but not from the two reporters who are a little angry that Conrad was 'drafted' for the army.

Average Normal American Boy!

Two girls (Nicole Howell and Danielle Pruett) sing the Conrad Birdie song for Albert (Josh Taylor), while Krissi Smith and Kimbre Taylor get a little melancholy over Conrad's going into the army.

On March 12, 13, and 14, Conrad Birdie arrived at the train station in Sweet Apple, Ohio and into the hearts of Rensselaer High School audiences. Lars Kristoferson played Conrad Birdie, Josh Taylor played Albert Peterson, and Rebekah Hansen played Rose Alvarez. The play was enjoyed by all who came and saw it, and thought it was funny.

Welcome, Conrad Birdie!!

I'll Always Be Your Steady, Hugo!

Hugo (Brandon Lakin) doesn't look that convinced that Kim (Megan Casey) will always be his steady and that Conrad Birdie is just a "fling." Hugo, in one scene had to hit Conrad to get him from kissing his steady girlfriend, who in turn didn't want to go steady with Hugo anymore.

You Gotta Be Sincere

Conrad Birdie (Lars Kristoffersen) woes the crowd with his singing. He makes the townspeople faint with excitement. On the ground is Jessica Mercer who played Ursula Merkle.

Putting For Par

While humming "Leaving on a Jet Plane," ace junior putter Meeghan Smith rolls one in for par during the 1998 Girls' Golf Sectional, at Sandy Pines Country Club in northern Jasper County.

Reading The Green

Reading the green correctly is one of the most important techniques of a good putt. In the photo above, Krissi Darnaby will sink this carefully planned putt with no problem, and the fans will go wild!

Chip Shot

Sophomore, Alicia Standish, examines the slope, then executes the swing. This season was Alicia's second, and she earned her varsity letter!

Terrific Tee Shot

Sarah Bailey hits a solid drive on tee #12 at the home course, Curtis Creek Country Club. This season was Sarah's first, and she picked up on the game very quickly!

From the Golf Bag

Terrah Smith thoughtfully stated, "As a freshman, this season has been a learning experience, but also really fun! I am certainly looking forward to next year!"

Meeghan Smith expressed with a silly chuckle, "Although Dede won't physically be with us next year, she will most definitely remain in our hearts; just thinking about her and her outlook on the game of golf will bring many smiles to our faces, and get us through the tough courses. We love you, Dede!"

Megan Casey said, "I credit the golf team to corrupting my mind; the things they influenced me to do were things I would never had done in sound mind. However, the team improved every time it played, and ended the season with personal bests. Despite Dede's absence, I am looking forward to next year!"

Supportive Super-Fans

Assistant Principal and Athletic Director, Dr. Tom Ryan and Coach Rich Stefanich observe the 1998 Girls' Golf Sectional on the lovely afternoon of September 19th.

1998 VARSITY AND JV GIRLS' GOLF TEAM

What a team they were! Each and every Lady Bomber Golfer, both returning and new, gave it their all to become competitive golfers with a very satisfied coach. Back row (Varsity): Krissi Darnaby, Meeghan Smith, Dede Wiener, Coach Stefanich, Megan Casey, Andrea Nussbaum, and Alicia Standish. Front row (JV): Misty Demoss, Lindsey Jeffries, Sarah Bailey, Michelle Donnelly, Terrah Smith, Samantha Hopkins, and Ashli Nelson.

Dede's Dynamic Drive

Beloved senior team captain, Dede Wiener, shows off her pure raw skill at the 1998 Girls' Golf Sectional by driving toward the 10th green at Sandy Pines.

Concentration Is The Key

Without concentration, an easy putt can be easily missed. Andrea Nussbaum shows everyone how to master the green.

Lets Talk It Out

The JV girl's team, Randi Raff (1) and Kaye Rodibaugh (5) are talking things out between a serve. Ashley Hayworth (7) and Alina Matthew (3) are getting ready for the serve from their team mate.

Pump Us Up

Coach Kauffman is getting the JV girls' team pumped up for their third match which is a very important determining factor to their record.

Let's Get A Point

The team gathers to do their team clap and chant after gaining back the volley. Ashley Hayworth (7) prepares to serve the ball.

Quote From Coach

Coach Chernowsky said, "The girls worked really hard and they were consistently improving. The game that I found was in my mind is the game that we played like Central. We took them to the first game and ended up losing we still played very good. For my first year it was a fun year the girls were a great group to have."

I'll Tell You What I Think!

Stacy Plett quoted, "I had a blast this year, and I hope that we all stick together and improve together."

Tell Me What You Think

Ashley Brenneman quotes, "This year was a winning season, and we practiced hard and never gave up." As we travel on through our high school careers I hope we all improve."

Lady Bombers give great effort

The Lady Bombers had some major "ups and downs" in this year's season. They went through some pretty tough times and they also picked up several wins. Coach Derek Klute agrees, "Overall, our season wasn't very consistent, we had some major points in the season, but we also had some minor points." He also explained that, "They suffered from inexperience, due to the loss of a few star players from last year." He continues, "The best part of the season was at the beginning when we started out strong with a 5 - 0 record." When asked about the team's strong points, he replied, "They were never afraid to give all their effort. During games, they always worked their hardest."

Congratulations, ladies, on a great season!

All-Conference Athletes

Juniors Erin Kosta and Kara Tiede were recognized this year as All-Conference athletes in the newly-established Hoosier Conference. Coach Derek Klute selected these two women because of their skill and consistency. Erin Kosta excelled at setting the ball, while Kara Tiede's forte was hitting and passing.

SOME WORDS TO SAY:

Jerry McKim recalled, "It was a season much like all seasons. The players worked hard and remained committed to improving their football skills. The coaching staff was proud of the dedication the players made them. I'd do it all again."

THE BIG BLACK AND RED: (front) Matt Kiger, Jason Scott, Ben Crotteau, Garrett Alson, Justin Roberts, Cory Malchow, Lars Kristofferson; and (back) Chris Meeks, Jerry McKim, Sam Cox. These men are the senior varsity Bomber football players and coaches: leadership through hard knocks.

FIRST TEAM CAPTAIN

Senior Garrett Alson, quarterbacked the Bombers varsity football team and was voted by the team to be one of two leaders. Garrett completed 826 yards total offense for the season and executed 48 tackles on defense. Garrett was one of many on the All Area team.

SECOND TEAM CAPTAIN

Offensive and defensive lineman Jason Scott was a man whom the team and the coaches depended on a lot. Even though Jason was injured half of the season, he was voted as the most feared lineman in the Hoosier Conference, with a season total of 35 tackles.

Zimmer 3:16 was this year's theme among all of the runners.

Z's Final Report:

Mr. Z highlights this year's season: Mr. Zimmer felt that the girls came out and carried through the season with a strong effort. He said that for him the most exciting meet this year was when the team placed second at the Harrison Invitational. At this particular invite, the RCHS girls finished ahead of some of the top schools. Another highlight this year was the team competing at Semi-State.

POSITIONING IS KEY

The picture on the right shows the 145 lbs. sophomore, Josh Jones, getting into position to take down his opponent from Benton Central for two points.

TAKE DOWN

In the picture to the right Sophomore Kyle Johns is shooting for a single leg take down for two points against the 102 lbs wrestler, a West Lafayette Red Devil. Also, Kyle is one of the few athletes on the Bomber wrestling team who received the chance to be in the Hoosier Conference competition.

GOING FOR THE GOLD

The picture below shows senior Tom Alberts getting his award for winning first place in the IHSAA Sectional competition in the 152 lbs. weight class.

SOME WORDS TO SAY

Head Coach Chris Meeks voiced his thoughts: "This year's varsity wrestling team finished the season with 16 wins and 5 losses, which I think is very pleasing considering we will be returning 19 of my 22 member squad next year. We were very, very young, but what we lacked in experience we gained in hard work and effort. These kids gave it their all throughout the season. I would also credit my senior wrestlers Tom Alberts, Cory Malchow, and Jason Scott for their leadership. These 3 seniors led the team on and off the mat. They demonstrated to our younger wrestlers what it takes to be Rensselaer wrestlers."

NEVER GIVING UP

The picture above shows senior Jason Scott competing in the 215 lbs. weight class for the Rensselaer Bombers. Jason is trying to get out from the bottom so he can win the match and eventually contribute to the victory for the whole meet.

FIRST TEAM CAPTAIN

Tom Alberts is one of our Senior team Captains. Tom never gave up during a match and worked his hardest in practice. To show this, Tom's record was 28-8, placing 1st in the IHSA and 4th in the IHSAA Regional in the 152 lbs. weight class.

SECOND TEAM CAPTAIN

Jason Scott is another senior team captain for the wrestling team. Competing in the 215 lbs weight class, Jason had the most pressure to win his matches for the team. Jason had a record of 27-6, placing 1st in ISHAA Sectional, and being named a Hoosier Conference Champion.

Vossburger!

Aaron Voss, a freshmen, gets in position on the blocks for the start of the backstroke race. Voss was a spunky competitor and always had a smile on his face. The older members make sure that the freshmen are initiated properly but Aaron was still alive after the season to talk about it.

Get out of the way!

This is really what it looks like underwater. Ian Querry "poses" for a close-up during practice.

Real Concentration

You can see dedication of Luke Tillet written on his face as he bolts off the blocks starting one of the men's relays.

Anyone who attended a meet could see this same "game face" on all of the men's swim team members. Even though the team only had two senior leaders they really pulled it together and gave each opponent a run for their money. The mens' dedication and support for each other reached deep into sectional week when they participated in the long time tradition of coloring their hair and then shaving it off in crazy designs to boost team morale.

Check out that Zimmer! Zak Zimmer, a sophomore, concentrates on his start as he awaits the "GO" from the official. The start of each race is the swimmer's time to be nervous. The adrenaline gets pumping as they're given the okay to take the blocks. They shake out those last few muscles before they clench their fingers around the edge of the blocks and take their mark. With the crowd hushed, it seems like an eternity until they finally hear the signal.....

Can you see me?
Ryan Standish, a junior, takes the plunge during a brief warm up lap after the diving events at a meet.

UNDERHANDEDNESS ACCEPTABLE

Amy Hanewich, a Senior member of the 1999 girls' softball team, will mostly miss hittin' around with her friends. She says, "We were all about having fun!" And the above photo displays that positive attitude.

What a Hit!

In the photo above, Danielle Klop is slack-jawed with joy as she cranks one out of the diamond.

Great Coaching

In the photo below, JV Coach Sam Cox decides what sign to give his next batter. Under his leadership and guidance, the Bombers had an excellent season.

Lead-off Man

Sophomore shortstop Kyle Johns takes his hacks against Lowell in the photo to the right. Kyle sparked the potent Bomber attack many times during the 1999.

Patient Hitting

Sophomore second baseman Mark Alson takes a pitch versus the Lowell Red Devils in the above picture. Alson was a key man in the lineup, batting second in the order.

Watching Intently

At right, Kyle Johns, Ryan Stanley, and Justin Holbrook look on during a varsity game. These are a few of the JV players who travelled with the varsity on occasion.

scenic place will give you an idea of how talented, fun, and crazy some of the students can be. In this section you can find out where you fit

in the swingin' social life of RCHS. From hanging out in the halls

to cruising after hours,

high school is the "best of life" - so far.

Life

A complete picture of the quirks of R.C.H.S. students.

Mr. Bill Oates and Meeghan Smith stuff Brittany Sweeney into the trash for a BomberVision lunch menu. Sophomores gather in the hall for the ritual morning "help" session. Jason Thompson slams one in for Junior Achievement. Blake Weiss is making a not-so-funny impression on upperclassman Kim McClellan. Seniors Lars Kritofferson and Justin Roberts strut their stuff down the hall on the way into MORP. Can you believe these people? Aren't they sooooo funny!?.

The STAGE Crew

Jarod Courtney, Josh Clouse, Andy Blasky, Jason Robinson, Amber Mattocks, Tara Burman, Jodi Graf, Lori Lane, Ray Yeoman, Nick Ames, Dave Shanley, Scott Walker, Brad Daniels, and Jason Dobson.

Cowboy Denny

All of these friends not only enjoy hanging out at school but they also find time to get together after school hours. The STAGE parking lot is the perfect place where they can discuss hot topics.

Saving Lives

Making a difference in the world.

"I want to work in Pediatrics one day. Children's systems respond so differently to trauma. It's very interesting."

Megan Critser

Megan Critser spent six months of her senior year taking classes to be licensed as an Emergency Medical Technician. She spent four hours, two nights a week, in class. After she finished her 48 clinical hours, a written exam, and passed a skills test, she was awarded her license.

Critser is employed in Carroll County as an EMT. She enjoys her exciting job and new responsibilities. The job can be a real challenge though. For example, a person can be suffering from shortness of breath and Megan has to figure out what the cause is. "It could be sixty different things. This job takes sharpened problem solving skills," she shared.

Megan has come in contact with some real trauma situations. "The scariest problem to treat is a 'code patient.' This person has suffered a heart attack and their heart is not beating and they are not breathing. We basically have to bring them back to life."

A Little Help from Dad.

Nathan Schleman receives some driving instruction from his dad. Nathan knows what he's doing, but a little help never hurts.

VVRRROOOOOOMMM!

Nathan Schleman and Jake Nagel enjoy racing their "babies." Built from scratch, #18 and #26 are their pride and joy. Here they stand with their prized possessions.

Aren't we good-looking?

Nathan (#18) and Jake (#26) pose here for a picture in their cars.

...and they're off!!

Above, Jake Nagel, and below, Nathan Schleman are in their cars and ready to roll. Race day is a stressful day and you can tell that these guys are prepared to do their best.

The Weekend

Rensselaer isn't exactly a place where there is a lot "happenin'" on a weekend, but with a town full of original kids and creative minds, something is bound to arise.

A Teacher's Weekend

One RCHS studies teacher, Mr. Potter, who teaches U.S History and sociology, says that he enjoys just going out with his friends for dinner and drinks - lemonade that is.

Cruise'n around

Andy Blasky claims he keeps himself entertained by cruising downtown and hanging out at the Stage parking lot in the college square.

Yield 27

Bands in school these days seems to be rather popular. However, there are those students who aren't talented enough to make it in a real band. Those students, like Alex Kingman, Jared Steffen, Alex Abel, and Steve Dumas wanted to form their own more personalized band. Yield 27 was first started by Alex Kingman and Jared Steffen. They started out by just playing their guitars but then moved up to drums and even singing songs like, "Machine Head," "867-5309," and "Ants Marching." However, they didn't stop there. They moved on to produce their own music. Keep listening for the band's next appearance.

Teen Issues

Our teenage years are probably going to be some of the toughest times of our lives. Just like grown-ups have issues they have to do deal with, teenagers have some of their own. Here are some of the things that are on most of teenagers minds.

College Choices

Lindsey Jeffries, who is currently a junior in highschool, believes that a major teen issue is college choice. There isn't enough help for students who are trying to find the right type of college for them. Going to the right school influences your life, so the right choice needs to be made.

School shootings

Sarah Brown was a Senior in 1999, and she strongly believed that her society had a big issue about kids and violence. She took measures so that everyone else was also aware of local teen feelings. After the Colorado high school shooting at Littleton, she wrote a letter that expressed her views on the topic. Wanting everyone to know about how she felt, and she sent it to the most important people in the U.S., including the President.

Getting Personal

The three students to the left believed that the use of drugs among high school students is a very big problem. They all agreed:

"Even though we don't live in a big city, drugs are still a problem. It seems every year someone new is getting addicted to some kind of drug, whether it be alcohol, cigarettes, or marijuana. We want students to know that there are many other ways to have fun."

Personality Perks

LIFE STRATEGIES

YOU EITHER GET IT, OR YOU DON'T.

You create your own experience.

PEOPLE DO WHAT WORKS.

You cannot change what you do not acknowledge.

LIFE REWARDS ACTION.

There is no reality, only perception.

LIFE IS MANAGED, NOT CURED.

We teach others how to treat us.

THERE IS FREEDOM IN FORGIVENESS.

You have to name it to claim it.

LIFE QUOTES

Some people come into our lives and stay for awhile.

Others go quickly and leave
footprints on our hearts;
And our lives are never the same.

Be aware that the only ceiling life has is the one you give it.

Success is getting what you want;
happiness
is wanting what you get.

DEALING WITH PEOPLE

Reciprocity- You get what you give.

TYPES OF PEOPLE

1. THE PORCUPINE - Have a chip on the shoulder
2. PAWS UP - Totally defenseless posture
3. THE KINGS OR QUEENS OF THE FOREST - Think more highly of themselves than those around them
4. THE POSERS - Mannequins, act in a superficial manner
5. THE PEOPLE EATER - Controls everyone and everything
6. THE DRAMA QUEEN - Everything is dramatic, nothing is ordinary
7. THE VICTIM - Accountable for nothing, everything happens to him or her
8. THE EINSTEIN ANALYZERS - Know-It-All's: analysis is paralysis
9. CONSPIRATOR GOSSIPS - Always looking over their shoulders, spreading exclusive news
10. YEAH, BUT - Always have an exception
11. SCARLETT O'HARA - Chooses not to address a problem
12. THE MASK - Tries to hide something
13. JEKYLL-AND-HYDE - Unpredictable
14. GOODY TWO-SHOES - Blind to the fact that some people are less than pure in heart and motives
15. PERFECTO - Have to be perfect
16. CHICKEN LITTLE - The world's coming to an end
17. WHINERS - Nothing is ever okay
18. GUILTMONGERS - Use guilt as a way to keep other people down

EXCELLENCE CAN BE ATTAINED IF YOU ...

- care more than others think is wise
- risk more than others think is safe
- dream more than others think is practical
- expect more than others think is possible

Inspirational Story

Sometimes people come into your life, and you know right away that they were meant to be there, to serve some sort of purpose, to teach you a lesson, or to help you figure out who you are or who you want to become. You never know who these people may be, but when you lock eyes with them, you know at that very moment they will affect your life in some profound way. And sometimes things happen to you that may seem horrible, painful, and unfair at first, but in reflection you find that without overcoming those obstacles you would never have realized your potential, strength, willpower, or heart. Everything happens for a reason. Nothing happens by chance or by means of good luck. Illness, injury, love, lost moments of true greatness, and sheer stupidity all occur to test the limits of true greatness, and the limits of your soul. Without these small tests, whatever they may be, life would be like a smoothly paved, straight, flat road to nowhere. It would be safe and comfortable but dull and utterly pointless. The people you meet who affect your life, and the success and downfalls you experience, help to create who you are and who you become. You can even learn from the bad experiences. In fact, they are probably the most poignant and important ones. If someone hurts you, betrays you, or breaks your heart, forgive them, for they have helped you learn about trust and the importance of being cautious when you open your inner self. If someone loves you, love them back unconditionally, not only because they love you, but also because in a way, they are teaching you to love and to open your heart and eyes to many different experiences. Make every day count. Appreciate every moment and take from those moments everything that you possibly can, for you may never be able to experience them again. Talk to people whom you have never talked to before, and actually listen. Let yourself fall in love, break free, and set your sights high. Hold your head up because you have every right to. Tell yourself that you are a great individual, and believe in yourself, because if you don't believe in yourself, it will be hard for others to believe in you. You can make anything of your life, anything you wish. Create your own life and then go out and live it with absolutely no regrets. Most importantly, if you love someone, tell them - you never know what tomorrow may have in store. And learn a lesson in life each day you live. Today is the tomorrow you were worried about yesterday.

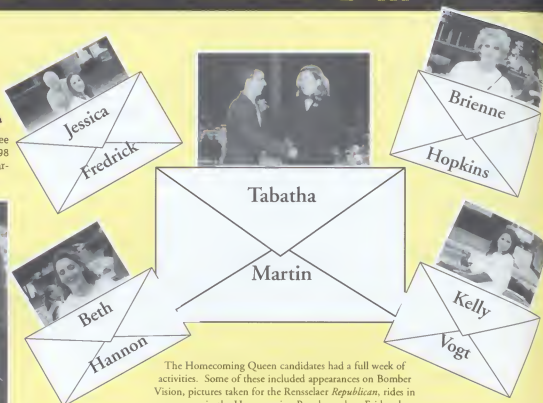

Was it worth it??

Homecoming: A great night for tears and cheers!

And The Winner Is...

Passing The Reign On

The 1997 Homecoming Queen, Bree Bailey places the crown on the 1998 Homecoming Queen Tabatha Martin.

The Homecoming Queen candidates had a full week of activities. Some of these included appearances on Bomber Vision, pictures taken for the Rensselaer Republican, rides in snazzy cars in the Homecoming Parade, and on Friday they practiced walking down the center aisle (50 yard line) of the football field. Friday night was the big event, the annual Homecoming Football game.

Who Will It Be?

The 1998 Homecoming Queen candidates and their escorts anxiously wait to hear who the queen will be. From left are Beth Hannon and Tom Alberts, Tabatha Martin and Sean Cawby, Kelly Vogt and JR Studer, Brienne Hopkins and Luke Tillet, and Jessica Fredrick and Jatin Patel.

Look At Those Crazy Bomber Fans!

Brian Hannon, Kyle Curtis, Jarod Steffen, Kevin Gillespie, and other pumped up Bomber fans cheer on the football players. Although the Bombers were not victorious, they fought a tough game and lost 17-38, to the Red Devils.

"I'm A Devil"

Brendan Riley poses for a devilish picture before boarding the senior float in the Homecoming Parade.

Another Scrumptious Breakfast!

Teachers enjoyed a scrumptious breakfast prepared by the Sunshine Society's officers. Pictured to the left is Mr. Zimmer, being served by Jill Wiltfang and Allison Allie.

Go Fight Win!

Bomber fans stand at the fence watching their football team attempt a victory. The fans are also anxiously awaiting halftime for the homecoming queen candidates to travel down the field. The cameras are ready, and crowd is ready to explode with excitement.

Congratulations, Dr. Ryan!

The 1998 homecoming Grand Marshall was former English teacher and new assistant principal Dr. Tom Ryan.

RCHS gets groovy with Yield 26 at the annual Morp dance. Morp, or backwards prom, is a time to dress down and get down with your best self before the "Big Dance."

Yield 26 Entertains RCHS

Brandon Lakin hits the high notes on lead vocals, Andy Earnest gets the bass bouncing, Mike Osterfeld beats it on the drums, Brian Lakin strums it on the guitar, while Josh Taylor struts his stuff on lead guitar.

I'm A "Chick Magnet"

Nick Black drives the ladies at RCHS absolutely mad with his rendition of the catchy, punk, MxPx tune. It was obvious to see that Nicholas was dancing "For the Love of Money."

Fans go Crazy Over Yield 26!

Jennifer Whitaker, Rebekah Hansen, and Jessica Mercer along with many others get into the groove at Morp.

No Strings Attached

Andy Earnest and Josh Taylor play popular tunes on their guitars to provide pure listening pleasure to fellow RCHS comrades.

F U N F E S T

Luke Sayers is the comedian at the talent show, giving his impersonation of Jim Carey, "All Righty Then."

Amanda Gutwein is jumping hard for a victory in the sack race, which was part of the relays.

The freshmen stun the audience with their impersonations of Brittany Spears; the impersonators consist of Heather Ensign, Meg Nagel, Rhannon Hartwell, and Brooke Hewitt.

Sarah Brown, Andy Earnest, and Jessica Fredrick are all tangled up as they play Twister.

Kyle Nagel looks beat after the obstacle course.

Kristina Russell and Jessica Taulman get all gooey with a twinkle in between their heads as they compete in the relays.

Can we stay this way forever? In the picture to the left, freshman Kate Tatlock and her date, junior Adam Zacek, dance a slow song at prom.

What did you say?

Kasey Goad listens as Dede Wiener tells her what she did before Prom. Many prom-goers decided to go out of town and eat. Some hung out at malls for a little bit, while others went to fun places like Celebration Station.

Look at my hands!

Jason Robinson shows Becky Moore and Jake Nagel his tired hands from dancing all night long.

It takes any two to tango

Meeghan Smith and Megan Casey, do the tango at Prom. They weren't the only ones to dance with the same sex. Alex Kingman and Yo Gutwein did a swing dance together.

SENIOR CLASS OF 1999

Party like it's 1999

Pop singer Prince would sure be happy to see the class of 1999 party like it's graduation day. With silly string, a blow horn, and a little toilet paper, June 6, 1999 turned out to be a great day.

Father-Daughter Time

Senior Cara Ockermann and Superintendent Mitch Ockermann, who happens to be her proud father, share a heartfelt hug at graduation.

#1 Support Team

Valedictorian Luke Tillett, senior class sponsors Kelley Spurgeon and Jan Benner, Principal David Day, Vice-Principal Tom Ryan, and Superintendent Mitch Ockermann watch as the Class of 1999 prepares to bid adieu to RCHS.

Oh Thank You!

Beth Hannon takes the plunge of receiving the diploma that will set her on her way to a vast and interesting world.

Words of wisdom

Mike Tillet was the Class of 1999 valedictorian. He gave a wonderful speech about how there is more to life than just the American dream, and that you should always seek the truth from God.

A walk down memory lane.

Sara Putt was the Class of 1999 salutatorian. Sara helped her class reminisce about all the fantastic and unforgettable moments in their school career like "Mmm, this corn sure is tasty!"

My Tribute to the Senior Class of 1999

Brienne Hopkins and Josh Taylor sang a song they wrote in dedication to the Class of 1999. The song was very emotional, considering it was about the strong love amongst the classmates.

A little piece of Africa.

Andy Earnest, Kristi Zobel, and Robb Pfaff play a tune from an African ritual ceremony during the 1999 graduation program.

Alma Mater

The senior choir sang the Rensselaer Central Alma Mater to the senior class of 1999. The seniors who sang were (top row from left) Amy Peterson, Heather Hofmeyer, Kelly Brantner, Lars Kristofferson, Derek Goad, Josh Taylor, Nick Black. (middle row) Shelly Bailey, Laura Meyers, JR Studer, Brandon Lakin, Mark Slade, Desi Hopkins, Beth Houston, Jennifer Wicks, and (front row) Tiffany Jordan, Kelly Vogt, Dede Wiener, and Sarah Stone.

This is the last stop on the hike through high school. You've met the people you need to know, learned about the activities you need to get involved in, experienced the sports that will wear you out, and recalled those special people at RCHS who made the year awesome. We wish you a fond Farewell and encourage you to take what you have and make HIGH SCHOOL worth remembering. We'll leave you with a final thought from Lloyd, "There is only one way to know how far you can go - START WALKING!"

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the research and the objectives of the study. It then presents a literature review of the existing research on the topic. The second part of the paper describes the methodology used in the study, including the data collection and analysis techniques. The third part of the paper presents the results of the study, and the fourth part discusses the conclusions and implications of the findings. The paper concludes with a summary of the main points and a list of references.

The research was conducted in a systematic and rigorous manner, following the principles of good research practice. The data was collected from a large and diverse sample of participants, and the analysis was conducted using a range of statistical techniques. The results of the study are presented in a clear and concise manner, and the conclusions are based on a thorough and objective analysis of the data.

The findings of the study have important implications for the field of research, and they provide valuable insights into the nature of the phenomenon being studied. The results suggest that there are a number of factors that influence the outcome of the study, and that these factors can be manipulated to achieve different results. This has important implications for the design and conduct of future research, and it provides a basis for the development of new theories and models.

The paper is written in a clear and concise manner, and it is easy to read and understand. The language is simple and direct, and the arguments are presented in a logical and coherent manner. The paper is well-structured and easy to follow, and it provides a comprehensive overview of the research and its findings.
